A GLASS WORKS TO REMOVE.

It was reliably learned on Saturday s president, and W. S. Brady, formerly to be at once removed to Moundar

The Fostoria Company is composed of men living in this vicinity, and was organized in the palmy days of the Fostoria boom, to take advantage of the cheap and abundant gas said to exist there. The gas proved to be neither so cheap nor abundant as was expected, and it has been well known for some time that the gentlemen in the company were anxious to relocate in a place where coal was plenty, cheap and reliable. Messrs Martin and Brady made a tour of the West Virginia and Virginia towns supposed to be eligible locations for such a plant, and were known to have several towns in view, but the inducements held out by the enterprising people of Moundsville proved strongest, and the arrangement was completed on Saturday, as before stated, by which that town will secure the glass house.

This will be a decided addition to the industries of Wheeling's growing neighbor, and will benefit this city indirectly as well. It is certainly a rigoificant fact that after a fair test of the much boomed Ohio gas region, these gentlemen should come back to a locality with whose advantages for glass manufacture they are that after a fair test of the much boomed Ohio gas region, these gentlemen should come back to a locality with whose advantages for glass manufacture they are as thoroughly familiar as any men in the trade. It is encouraging to find that when one of the new boom places fails, the manufacturers turn at once to the Wheeling district for a good location. This section will welcome these or other erring brethren as fast as they discover their error in going away.

The local union of horse collar maker has elected J. W. Reddall as delegate to the national convention of the trade which meets at Baltimore June 1. Sam uel B. Crew was chosen alternate.

Assistant Organizer M. M. Garland, of the A. A. of I. and S. W., organized a colored lodge at Ætnaville on the 18th mat. The lodge will be known as the Rising Sun. All these members are employed in the Ætna mill. There was lots of money in circulation on the South Side yesterday. Saturday was pay day at the Wheeling pottery, the Hobbs glass works, the Standard axle factory, the Riverside iron works and the Boggs run coal works.
